

Please join us for lunch
Wednesday, January 24, 2018

The Opioid Crisis: Health Effects on Unions and Health Funds

Jamie Becker

Director, Health Promotions
Laborers' Health & Safety Fund of North America

As the Director of Health Promotion for the Laborers' Health & Safety Fund of North America (LHSFNA), a joint labor management trust fund, Jamie is uniquely situated to address the opioid epidemic. Jamie has most recently been appointed to represent the Laborers' International Union of North America (LIUNA) on the newly created NABTU Opioid Task Force. She has taken the lead on behalf of the LHSFNA to navigate addressing mental health and substance use disorder issues within the Laborers'. LHSFNA has consistently been considered ahead of the curve and on the forefront of health and safety issues including critical incident response, drug-free workplace programs, suicide prevention, and mental health. At this critical time when employers and employees/members both seem to be listening and looking for guidance in relation to behavioral health, Jamie and the LHSFNA are up for the challenge recognizing that partnerships and collaboration are key. Jamie Becker has been with LHSFNA in Washington, DC for over fifteen years.

Time: Sign-in begins 11:30; Lunch 12:00; Presentation and Q&A 12:45 - 1:30 PM

Prices: Students $20; Members $25; Non-members $30.

Pre-register & pay online: Go to www.dclera.org.

Walk-ins OK: BUT...please register in advance by emailing your name and affiliation to Jackie Brown at jbrown@teamster.org so we can order enough food.

Venue: The historic Whittemore House (operated by the Woman's National Democratic Club) at 1526 New Hampshire Ave. NW, Washington, D.C. 20036, just one block from Dunont Circle and its Red Line Metro station